I've been hiding it
I tell you something
Just to leave it buried
Now I can't endure it anymore
Why couldn't I say it then
I have been hurting anyway
Really I won't be able to endure it
Now cry
It's only that I'm very sorry towards you
Again, cry because I couldn't protect you

Deeper, deeper, the wound just gets deeper
Like pieces of broken glass that I can't reverse
Deeper, it's just the heart that hurts every day
(You) who was punished in my stead,
You who were only delicate and fragile

Stop crying, tell me something

Try saying to me, who had no courage
Why did you do that to me then
I'm sorry

Forget it,
What right do I have
To tell you to do this, or that

Deeper, deeper, the wound just gets deeper
Like pieces of broken glass that I can't reverse
Deeper, it's just the heart that hurts every day
(You) who was punished in my stead,
You who were only delicate and fragile

I'm sorry I'm sorry
I'm sorry ma brother
Even if (I try to) hide it, or conceal it, it can't be erased
Are you calling me a sinner
What more do I have to say

I'm sorry I'm sorry
I'm sorry ma sister
Even if (I try to) hide it, or conceal it, it can't be erased
So cry
Please dry my eyes

That light, that light, please illuminate my sins
Where I can't turn back the red blood is flowing down
Deeper, I feel like dying every day
Please let me be punished
Please forgive me for my sins
Please
