

Twice The Speed Of Love

Buck Owens

Your eyes are always filled with sweet temptation
And the way you look at me sets me on fire
When it comes to your lips there's no hesitation
I'm like a puppet on a string filled with desire

And I'd travel twice the speed of love to get to your charms
I'd walk on by to hold you in my arms
And I'd travel twice the speed of love never to part
Twice the speed of love to be the prisoner of your heart

I never thought that I could be so lonely
But that's the way I feel without you
And every girl I know is like a stranger
'Cause they don't make me feel the way you do

I'd travel twice the speed of love to be the prisoner of your heart
