

Barricade

Buckcherry

What is everybody looking for
What cha got for me behind closed doors
Lost everything but ya still want some more
Feelin' manic and been up for days
What cha got for me to kill this pain
Turn up the heat cause my heart is so cold

Breaking right through the barricade
Breaking right through the walls
And hear the calls of all the people who changed
Breaking right through the barricade
Open your arms and drop your guard
I know it's hard but we all look insane

Like an addict with a broken dream
You can't always get your tricks for free
And I must confess I always get what I need
If you want it you can look inside
All the answers will corrupt your mind
It gets turbulent and there's so much to find

Breaking right through the barricade
Breaking right through the walls
And hear the calls of all the people who changed
Breaking right through the barricade
Open your arms and drop your guard
I know it's hard but we all look insane

Way down the line I'll be waiting for you
Look in my eyes don't forget what I told you
You don't have to cry
Cause it all gets better when we die

Breaking right through the barricade
Breaking right through the walls
And hear the calls of all the people who changed
Breaking right through the barricade
Open your arms and drop your guard
I know it's hard but we all look insane

And we all are to blame
Break the barricade
