

The Feeling Never Dies

Buckcherry

I've lost my mind, nothing making sense
Something isn't right...and you say
Time is on my side, I'm never giving up
'Cause you know you've got to finish what you started
And this is what we wanted love

It's not enough that I hold ya
It's not enough that I take my time
You're still what I need and we are growing older
So look into my eyes
The feeling never dies

Oh cry, don't you cry
Everything's OK
We're gonna be alright...and you say
Why? Will we survive?
I'm never giving up
'Cause you know you've got to finish what you started
And this is what we wanted love

It's not enough that I hold ya
It's not enough that I take my time
You're still what I need and we are growing older
So look into my eyes
'Cause baby I adore ya
I'm not going to change my mind
You're my dream, the one that's on my shoulder
It's only you and I
The feeling never dies

I can tell you anything
I can come straight from the heart
I can tell you anything
And you love me no matter what

It's not enough that I hold ya
It's not enough that I take my time
You're still what I need and we are growing older
So look into my eyes
Baby I adore ya
I'm not going to change my mind
You're my dream, the one that's on my shoulder
It's only you and I

It's not enough that I hold ya
It's not enough that I take my time
You're still what I need baby
Soul baby, the one that I adore
The feeling never dies
(The feeling never dies)
The feeling never dies
(The feeling never dies)
The feeling never dies
(The feeling never dies)
Oh don't you know the feeling never dies
