

Shot Me Through The Heart

Bucks Fizz

It's far too soon to have a change of heart
When I know you have loved me from the start
You talk to me softly, tearing my world in two
I'm gonna miss you
Hurting is easy, what am I gonna do
Remember today when you're walking away
I want you to stay can you hear what I'm saying

I can't believe that you're leaving
Are you sure, that staying will hurt you more
I never thought it would happen, like before
I'm sorry it had to be you who broke up the party
You know you've taken a part of me
You shot me through the heart
You shot me through the heart
You shot me through the heart

And now I know that time will heal the wound
And I, I'll laugh again maybe one day soon
Waiting forever, feeling I can't let go
I really don't know
It's never easy what have I left to show
The tears that I cry I've been crying for you
The feelings have died after all that we've been through

I can't believe that you're leaving
Are you sure, that staying will hurt you more
I never thought it would happen, like before
I'm sorry it had to be you who broke up the party
You know you've taken a part of me
You shot me through the heart
You shot me through the heart
You shot me through the heart

You're leaving me empty, broken and cold inside
Walking away with a wave of your hand
Why do you think I should ever try to understand

I can't believe that you're leaving
Are you sure, that staying will hurt you more
I never thought it would happen, like before
You shot me through the heart
