

Stepping Out

Bucks Fizz

You know I need ya
But I don't understand
How you can hold my hand
And roll your eyes
At all the other guys
I don't believe you
Something I just can't abide
You're never here by my side
For long

You know I need ya
I guess it's not the plan
You never understand
You run away
From everything I say
I guess I knew it
You want a one-night affair
I need somebody to care
For me

Why do you question everything that I do?
I can't take that back-chat
Why do you question everything that I do?
You're stepping out of the line
You're stepping out

You know I need ya
I'm gonna say it's true
I'm gonna stay with you
What can I say?
You're leaving anyway
And then you hurt me
You know I've always been true
I've wasted my time thinking just of you

Why do you question everything that I do?
I can't take that back-chat
Why do you question everything that I do?
You're stepping out of the line
You're stepping out

Why do you question everything that I do?
I can't take that back-chat
Why do you question everything that I do?
You're stepping out of the line
You're stepping out of the line
(You're stepping out of line)
You're stepping out of the line
(You're stepping out of line)
