

Immortal

Bugzy Malone

Now let's talk about death for a minute
I'm through livin'
I'll just sell tunes for a living
Who you kidding
We've never seen the cute women
Cus the angels took 'em
And then created Nephilim
Now that's a giant
That's how the pyramids got built
A flood came, and then the Nephilim got killed
A flood that coulda took out the whole world
And you're sat telling me that God doesn't exist
Think outside of the box
Cus that's just a rumour
If Tutankhamen came alive in his tomb
Then I assume that he didn't know that he would be huge
World wide known all over the globe
Now that's a modern day legend, a historical king
When Jesus rolls up he makes the angels sing
If Lucifer dropped outta the sky, and took few with him
And made the world turn bad with him
Then tell em

I can't die
Ah, no, I can't die
Now you can kill my body
Take my flesh
You'll never kill my spirit
So I'll eternal live it through my lyrics

Tell em I can't die
Ah, no, I can't die
The legacy starts now
And soon the legacy will be fulfilled
So Ima turn my life into a film

Vincent Van Gogh couldn't sell a painting when he was alive
It's amazing how much money he was making when he died
Now a picture goes for no less than 5 figures
He had us drawing sunflowers in our school pictures
2Pac wasn't the first black man to rap
But he put rap music on the map
They shot him in his chest, they couldn't bring him back
But 2Pac's still alive he's just living through his tracks
Some say that they miss Michael Jackson
When he's forever dancing
There'll be blood on the dance floor before he fades out
Bruce Lee died peacefully, in a deep sleep
When he was young, physically he was in his peak
But that's how you know, legends are here for a reason
Once the legacy's fulfilled, and we no longer need em
They move on
Legends don't mingle with the sheep
It runs deep
Just look at Muhammad Ali

I can't die

Ah, no, I can't die
Now you can kill my body
Take my flesh
You'll never kill my spirit
So I'll eternal live it through my lyrics

Tell em I can't die
Ah, no, I can't die
The legacy starts now
And soon the legacy will be fulfilled
So ima turn my life into a film
