

Nuclear

Bugzy Malone

Don't you crumble for the worst
And let the whole world see your true colours
Shine through, yay
And don't be humbled by these words
And keep on building to your nuclear
Yay, yay

Yeah I'm on the rise again, I've been in a bad place
Chillin' in the studio just tryna get my head straight
I made the journal of an evil genius part 1
And that was like a film and that was only the mixtape
And now I'm in control, that means I can dictate
And never again will anybody take this place
And now that I'm righteous, that means I can risk take
And nuen but power moves are gonna take place

Steph's got a kid now
Lyndon's got one on the way
Darkie's in London
I feel like running away
Anton's in university, heard he was studying late
Now I'm in magazines, courtesy of the game
Stacks on stacks yeah I'm still in the other lane
Don't talk about the trap though that's not how I play the game
I'll be on that building up an empire don shit
I need 6 figures in my bank just for the pain

Don't you crumble for the worst
And let the whole world see your true colours
Shine through, yay
And don't be humbled by these words
And keep on building to your nuclear
Yay, yay

I used to play Nintendo with my lil sis
And now we like to reminisce
About donkey kong and how we had a sega genesis
And now she's drawing like a Salvador Dali
And I'm song writing suen like a younger Bob Marley
It's madness, seeing how the pain and the struggle
Made us strive to survive and just rise from the rubbles
And I, remember sitting in my room going crazy
That's why I love Miami cus I swear that girl saved me

It's like the tables are turning
2005 and I was on the roads learning
2006 I'm in a jail representing 2007 I'm released and I'm pretending
That the roadside dream is my soul and ambition
2009 I'm in a terrible position
I'm stressed out
But now it's 2014 I'm bless now
And everybody's saying I'm the best out

Don't you crumble for the worst
And let the whole world see your true colours
Shine through, yay

And don't be humbled by these words
And keep on building to your nuclear
Yay, yay
Don't you crumble for the worst
And let the whole world see your true colours
Shine through, yay
And don't be humbled by these words
And keep on building to your nuclear
Yay, yay
