

She's Real

Built to Spill

I could try anything not a smile used to be and you can tell your heart good bye I know, I know,
I know your heart don't lie tell me why
I wanna hold on to you when you smile you're breakin me
don't know how you put this change in me

I used to be so cruel but now it's you who's breaking all the rules tell me why I wanna hold on to you tonight is much too hot to sleep and I walked all night just sitting drinking on the church step five o'clock, five alone, girl I'm still walking down the river to east river park two armchairs in the dark...
I'm waiting for the six o'clock
I was sleepless
second avenue
everybody's out tonight eight five at half past two but you're sleeping by yourself she's real, she's real I know our love is real from a block away

I can see her shades drawn down and tied
be my,
be my baby...
be my,
be my baby...
be my,
be my baby...
be my,
be my baby...
be my,
one and only...
be my,
be my baby now...
