

Add It On

Bully

It's not easy trying to talk to you
My words falls short when it's all you can do
Just watching and waiting and waiting
For you to move and
God is lying every day, he pins me down
Strips my faith, okay, I had none
But I'm angry and I want someone to blame

Wake up, still gone
It's just numbers
Add it on

This angle don't look the same
I try to help, your face has changed
So much I can not look, I can't look away
The sky is different now
Were there signs you missed somehow
You did what you could
You did all you should

Wake up, still gone
It's just numbers
Add it on

You were running in the room
Quick, come 'cause it's happening soon
You were running in the room
Quick, come 'cause it's happening soon
Now a reason for everything
If there is what's this mean
Not a reason, just a dream to get a little closer
Get some closure, what's it really mean

Wake up, still gone
It's just numbers
Add it on

Don't wanna wake up, still gone
It's just numbers
Add it on
