Either Way

Bully

I stayed up last night, I was tearin' up in bed
Thought of your death was overwhelming
I could've talked but I just rolled over instead

Everywhere I go there's people who just want what they have Everywhere I go there's people who just wanna hold on to what t hey have, yeah

And I, I want you either way
Even if you can't stay
I want you either way
Even if you can't stay

I drove past my house just an extra mile or two
I wanted to wait 'til the song was over
I kept driving and I thought about you

Everywhere I go there's people who just want what they have Everwhere I go there's people thinking "if I have you it's not that bad"

And I, I want you either way
Even if you can't stay
I want you either way
Even if you can't stay
I want you either way
Even if you can't stay
I want you either way
Even if you can't stay
