

Let You

Bully

Even if I'm found again I wouldn't come to Turn my past around again, I'd still reflect through
I can't control you, I don't want to, I know not to
I left, I let you down again, I left, I let you

But why would I have called you if I didn't want to?
Stumbled through your door because you know I want to
Argued you to bed, I couldn't help, I had to
Question what you said, I wanna understand you

She said she had doubted in it, I can't connect you
Changing in another light I can't connect to
And all these circles deranged I spin, deranged I spin
A mindless state I'm drowning in, you pull me in

I left, I let you down again, I left, I let you
I left, I let you down again, I did it for you

But why would I have called you if I didn't want to?
Stumbled through your door because you know I want to
Argued you to bed, I couldn't help, I had to
Question what you said, I wanna understand you

Hits me harder every time
Hits me harder every time
Think I need to step back, think I
Think I need to step back, think I
Think I need to step back, think I
Think I need to step back

But why would I have called you if I didn't want to?
Stumbled through your door because you know I want to
Argued you to bed, I couldn't help, I had to
Question what you said, I wanna understand you

I left, I let you down again, I left, I let you
I left, I let you down again, I did it for you
I left, I let you down again, I left, I let you
I left, I let you down again, I did it for you
