

Ms. America

Bully

I guess everything falls apart
Stole my pride and you broke my heart
Ms. America's been calling, she's been waiting on the line
Wondering how you could respect her
And then take her back in time
Just to break news

And I've been waiting to feel lighter like the sun
But it's burning my eyes and the morning's just begun
Yeah, it's hard when tragedy falls to watch the world keep moving on
If you're heading towards the dream, what's another hit and run

I guess everything falls apart
Finding hope in a broken heart
All I wanted was a daughter
Try my best to raise her right
But the whole world's caught on fire
And I don't wanna teach a kid to fight
For you, and for me too

I've been waiting to feel lighter like the sun
But it's burning my eyes and the morning's just begun
Yeah, it's hard when tragedy falls to watch the world keep moving on
If you're heading towards the dream, what's another hit and run

For you, and for me too

I've been waiting to feel lighter like the sun
But it's burning my eyes and the morning's just begun
Yeah, it's hard when tragedy falls to watch the world keep moving on
If you're heading towards the dream, what's another hit and run
If you're heading towards the dream, what's another hit and run
