

Stuck In Your Head

Bully

Your first false start to something new You're burning bridges that you don't want to Sacrifice what you'll never lose
You're left stuck in your head with something to prove
You're left stuck in your head (there's no way out)
You're left stuck in your head with something to prove

I wanna be in touch
Feel a little less disconnected
Without the crutch
Until I'm so sure, bold and brazen
No more feeling shame and
Test the sake of being
Find what I'm not seeing

You stay unsure you're still acting tough
Desire's just a heavy drug
Just empty mass, not a trace of you
You're left stuck in your head with something to prove
You're left stuck in your head (I can't get out)
You're left stuck in your head with something to prove

I wanna be in touch
Feel a little less disconnected
Without the crutch
Until I'm so sure, bold and brazen
No more feeling shame and
Test the sake of being
Find what I'm not seeing

And I wanna know where I go when it's over
I wanna know where I go when it's over
I wanna know where I go when it's over
I wanna know where I go when it's over
