

Little Brother Is Watching

Bumblefoot

Little brother has taken control
Shoveling dirt in every hole
Predators to condemn your soul
Watching you & watching me
We're all connected but separated
Misunderstood and so frustrated
A million armies of one have invaded
Watching you & watching me

We live behind glass curtains
And act like nothing's wrong
Soon you will belong
I know you're out there somewhere
We've watched you for so long
We wait for you to fall
We will expose you all

I know you're out there somewhere watching me
Little brother wants to make headlines, be immortalized
Everyone's got an electric eye, we're the digital spies
They've watched you for so long
I know you're out there somewhere watching me
We the people have taken over
We the people are little brother
Standing by to dethrone each other
Watching you & watching me

Paranoid, the lens is our weapon
Desensitized, in our lust for attention
Democratized, by our voyeur obsessions
Watching you & watching me
Slaves to perfection, don't let them
Project you as you are
Reveal your every flaw
I know you're out there somewhere
We've watched you for so long
We wait for you to fall
We will expose you all

I know you're out there somewhere watching me
Little brother wants to make headlines, be immortalized
Everyone's got an electric eye, we're the digital spies
They've watched you for so long
I know you're out there somewhere watching me
I know you're out there somewhere
This is the new totalitarian state

1000 Eyes are waiting for you to break
Stay in line, don't make a mistake
We're watching
We've watched you for so long
We wait for you to fall
We will expose you all
I know you're out there somewhere watching me
