Thought I Could Fly

Bumblefoot

Like daylight drains the sun I break like a gun We both lie as one And ships wreck on the sand Broken the man Her head in his hands

In my dream I'm falling Wake me before I die I thought I could fly

She comes long with me Breaking 'till free Awakening At once feel the collapse We both relax Our bodies breathe

In my dream I'm falling Wake me before I die I thought I could fly

She warms inside Softens my breathe Tightens my eyes Thought I Could Fly We reshaped into Pieces unglued Thought I could fly

In my dream I'm falling Wake me when I die Empty for a moment Yet complete at the same time I thought I could fly
