

Tuesday In Nancy

Bumblefoot

Tuesday night somebody died
While I was off living my lie
And I was blind but in my mind
All was fine to me

All must pass - nothing can last
We carry on - the line moves along
So who will cry for you?
I might - every time I breathe

Visit me in my sad dream
And tell me how I can find peace
Then tell me why the sad survive
And why we have such selfish minds
We think of our losses while your spirit flies
You took me with you - but I'll be back in time

Tuesday night someone died
But all is fine to me
Cause now I see.
