

White Coats And Their Medicine

Burden of a Day

Heart stops when in love
Time slows down
When you're young at heart
Your tragic love was lost
And now your eyes start to fade
"Now it's over", but it's just begun
The chapters ended
But the book has not been read
The story starts when you can
I'm calling out to you
Can you hear me
Just believe
See the lights they will never fade
Heart stops when in love
Time slows down
When you're young at heart
Keep pushing further
Keep pushing further and further
