

Orchestrated Love Song

Burlap To Cashmere

You, I love you so
These tears I shed
Are tears of gold
And you, these seeds we sow
They cry for the rain
In silence we watch them grow

And I want to live on a boat
And sail away with my children
I want to live on a boat
And sail away with my children
Where the ocean hits the sky

You, I love you so
These tears I shed
Are tears of gold
And you, the ocean's singing
An orchestrated love song
Her Opera tones ring on and on

And I want to live on a boat
And sail away with my children
I want to live on a boat
And sail away with my children
Where the ocean hits the sky

You know I love you
And as they say the sky is blue
It'll keep with the weather
And it's true what they say about the ocean
It's mysterious and it's dark
It'll keep us together
Where the ocean hits the sky
Hits the sky

All to that is pure?
Guide me far from here
Bird again we fly
Buried on my knees

All to that is pure
Guide me from my home
Earth again is sky
All to that is pure

Oh I want to live on a boat and sail away
I want to live on a boat and sail away

I want to live on a boat
And sail away with my children
I want to live on a boat

And sail away with my children
