

Dragon's Dream

Burning Witches

Oh, come on!

There's something pulling, weighing you down
To unknown golden streets long gone
So strange yet familiar
A place you never want to leave

Relentless evil, beauty and beast
The glorious days of plenty lost
It's time to toss the coin
To know is to believe the dream

Stuck in a dragon's dream
You should not fear, but then you scream
You feel the anger's pulsing, the dragon is mean
You're stuck in a dragon's dream
It's armor shines in sunlight's beam
The eyes reflect a power that you have never seen

The strangest memories, faces of doom
Living lives through centuries lost
Where is your sense of self
You're losing faith, cause you will be

Stuck in a dragon's dream
You should not fear, but then you scream
You feel the anger's pulsing, the dragon is mean
You're stuck in a dragon's dream
It's armor shines in sunlight's beam
The eyes reflect a power that you have never seen

Stuck in a dragon's dream
You should not fear, but then you scream
You feel the anger's pulsing, the dragon is mean
You're stuck in a dragon's dream
It's armor shines in sunlight's beam
The eyes reflect a power that you have never seen

Stuck in a dragon's dream
