

Quake

Bury Tomorrow

The air grew thick as the oceans hit the sand
I drag the blade across my palm to feel my hands

We will be swept away by the rain and the flood
Remember you can't pray to a god above

Quake
As your sanity breaks
Feel your soul fill with hate
I saw them shake
As the clouds took their shape
Let the blood rain
Let the blood rain

We sit here lost in emotion
In the tears
A life in turmoil sentenced by
All I see

We will be swept away by the rain and the flood
Remember you can't pray to a god above

Quake
As your sanity breaks
Feel your soul fill with hate
I saw them shake
As the clouds took their shape
Let the blood rain
Let the blood rain

Don't you run from it
Wait and resist
Nothing left to be said
All you'll see is red
Don't you run from it
Wait and resist
Nothing left to be said
All you'll see is red

All you'll see is red

It is taken now
As the rain persists
And I'm standing alone
I still wait and resist
'Cause it's taken now
As the rain persists
And I'm standing alone
