

Redeemer

Bury Tomorrow

So now I know that this is where we need to go to believe and get stronger.

I have nothing to say, you have nowhere to run,
Let's stay strong here, our life can get better.

Forgiveness for your crimes is not praying this time.
I'm calling recompense; I'm calling out your lies.
Realise in other people eyes, the consequences were not mended
By a sign of a cross, upon your fucking forehead.

Shallow man, you've forsaken all you love (for the last time)
Oh shallow man for this is not the end,
the time has come for strength, please don't give in.
Show me the will to fight, after this there's life, this is where you start to believe
Oh shallow man for this is not the end,
the time has come for strength, please don't give in.
Struggle through and show, there is always hope this is where you start to believe you can grow.

So now I know that this is where we need to go to believe and get stronger.
I have nothing to say, you have nowhere to run,
Let's stay strong here, our life can get better.

You Feel a weight has lifted.. you feel your dawn is new
You must hold inside a fear of the hell that waits for you.
Redeemer, you have tried to gather strength from skies.
You have no knowledge, no concept of when you die.

Shallow man, you've forsaken all you love (for the last time)
Oh shallow man for this is not the end,
the time has come for strength, please don't give in.
Show me the will to fight, after this there's life, this is where you start to believe you can grow
Oh shallow man for this is not the end,
the time has come for strength, please don't give in.
Struggle through and show, there is always hope this is where you start to believe.

So now I know that this is where we need to go to believe and get stronger.
I have nothing to say, you have nowhere to run,
Let's stay strong here, our life can get better.