Mission: Impossible 2

Bury Your Dead

I never said that i was a fucking poet. I never tried to be something i knew i'd never be. There's no use in pretending. I'll tell you one thing, so listen closely. I'll tell you one thing, so listen closely when i tell you this is straight from the bottom of my broken heart. So please save the excuses for someone who wants to hear them. You're not here; that's all that matters. I'm just afraid that i will never feel this way again. You're not here; that's all that matters. The lies, the deceit; will i ever say enough is enough, or will i continue to let you walk all over me? i am done. Pistol plea se. I can't take this anymore. Pistol please.
