always be there face i live with always be there face i live with abscess memory with broken fingers all the fallen down angels raw pain distress

it's all
in the way we know that we could have it all some
some satellites of pain can't always be ignored
war on all sides

drink life as it comes straight no chaser straight no chaser drink life as it comes straight no chaser climb inside you away from strangers building a system of alleys and motorways

in the way that we knowwe could have it all
some satellites of pain can't always be ignored
it's all
in the face of what we thought we knew before
war on all sides
war on all sides

keep on driving
hair left morning wet
there's nothing like losing you It's nothing like losing you
