

Wrong Somebody

Busted

Let's go!

I'm in over my head
You know I really need to let go
When you invite me into your bed
How will I find the strength to say no

You're too good to be true
You know I'm really coping badly
And now I know how it feels
To love the wrong somebody madly
I love the wrong somebody
I love the wrong somebody

We're scared of broken hearts to know that
Things were only going to turn out badly
So why does it feel so good to love the wrong somebody madly

Got your foot in the door
And you know everything about me
But when I can't do this anymore
How will you learn to live without me
I'm just the wrong somebody
You got the wrong somebody

We're scared of broken hearts to know that
Things were only going to turn out badly
So why does it feel so good to love the wrong somebody madly
The wrong somebody madly

We're scared of broken hearts to know that
Things were only going to turn out badly
So why does it feel so good to love the wrong somebody madly
The wrong somebody madly
The wrong somebody madly
