

Scary Fragile

Butterfly Boucher

Its scary to be fragile in this turning world
This world, it turns me upside down

On board there's a plank set aside
Nailed down and ready to be walked
These splinters in my hands won't go
I've held on tonight
What will happen tonight?
I've tried before

Its scary to be fragile in this turning world
This world, it turns me upside down

Upstairs there's a cupboard and a key
There's a coat inside that fits me
I put it on and wonder where the buttons have gone
Where have they gone?
I couldn't say

Its scary to be fragile in this turning world
This world, it turns me upside down

I won't believe it's all been done before

This world is getting scary
It's scary to be fragile

What have we done?
