

Disappointment

Buzzcocks

It's said history repeats itself, well, that is nothing new
But somewhere in the scheme of things, there lurks an awful truth

All the disappointment of the world
All the disappointment of the world

Life is a strict teacher, whose lessons must be learned
And optimists turn pessimists after experience

All the disappointment of the world
All the disappointment of the world

Try to understand, no matter what you plan
You'll never get what you demand

All the disappointment of the world
All the disappointment of the world

Try to understand, no matter what you plan
You'll never get what you demand
Betwixt and between, nightmare and dream
It's really as bad as it seems

All the disappointment of the world
All the disappointment of the world
All the disappointment of the world
All the disappointment of the world
