

Everything Is Wrong

Buzzcocks

It happens every day
I heard someone say
That every little thing you thought you knew is wrong

People stop and stare
Down screens everywhere
And every little thing you thought you knew is wrong

It's the same the whole world over
Feelings of thought control
Moving in wrong directions
And breaking down your soul

It's the same the whole world over
Feelings of thought control
Moving in wrong directions
And breaking down your soul

Well they say that nothing lasts forever
When you're going through bad weather
Every little thing you thought you knew is wrong

Yeah, every little thing you thought you knew is wrong
Well, every little thing you thought you knew
Every little thing you thought you knew
Every little thing you thought you knew is wrong
