

Stranger In Your Town

Buzzcocks

Everything in your life is what you see
All these games we play are meant to be
Everything you do is what you do
It's all inside of being inside of you

I look up and around, I look down to the ground
And you can be a stranger in your town

Everything you see is what you are
You can travel near, or travel far
It's all a game, you know, and that's for sure
And now, you've found out how, you still want more

I look up and around, I look down to the ground
And you can be a stranger in your town
