

Found (Forever)

Caamp

I'm underwater and all forgotten now
I've not been here before, so I might not get out
To swim and slaughter, my inhibitions found
I've not been here before, so I might not make it out

To know my own self, I am forever proud
I've been knocked sideways, I've been knocked down
To know my own self, I am forever found
To do things my way and leave no doubts

One look and it all falls down
Well, read them books, it's in there I've found
Take a second look, think his feet just left the ground
Long live the loneliest boy in town

And if oceans come between us
Let the earth become the sky
Let the misty mountains come crumblin' down
To the riverside
And the people, man, they're grievin'
But the birds sing songs of hope
And I'm right there between 'em
Havin' a long, long toke

One look and it all falls down
Well, read them books, it's in there I've found
Long live the loneliest boy in town

Long live the loneliest boy in town
Long live the loneliest boy in town
