

Silence!

Permeated by a warm and heavy embrace
I still don't know what it was
Fear of being disappointed again and again
Faithful to my sixth sense

Torment and dissolution
Pain - I must recover in music
I thought you were so immense
While they were just sensations

Permeated by my light I touch the stars
Rising from my abyss
Dominated by my wish I've no regrets
Hiding myself in darkness I ask for silence

Torment and dissolution
Pain - I must recover in music
I thought you were so immense
While they were just sensations

I've already expiated enough
I leave you to your damnations
Seedy forces have exploited my heart
Only music can now save my soul!

I ask for silence!

Torment and dissolution
Pain - I must recover in music
I thought you were so immense
While they were just illusions

I'm asking for silence
Out loud!
