

Today

Cadet

Today may be just another day, I'll be older yet
Shall I say 'I love you' nce again?
Until I soon forgrt while I'm wishing tomorrow would come
If you say each day is like a thousand years
Then why do I wait to love you?
If you say each day you cry a thousand tears
Then why do I wait to love you?
Today, it's a day I always face and it wanders by
Do I ever take away the pain?
When I take time to whisper words that can make you forget
You know I want to, you know I do
But do you know why I'm so confused?
