

Axis Of Your Love

Cadmium

Fell apart
But it was something in the air
It was something in the air
Took my heart
But life wasn't that fair
And it caught us unprepared

I can't help but think about you you
Thinking how I'd lay next to you to you to you
Anywhere in your direction
Is just enough
Cause I cant help but feel like I'm stuck

I can't stop my world from spinning on the axis of your love
I will find a way back to spinning on the axis of your love

Axis of your love...

Thought with you
I found somebody to stay
I found somebody to stay
Never knew
That I can feel that way
Miss you more with everyday

I can't help but think about you you
Thinking how I'd lay next to you to you to you
Anywhere in your direction
Is just enough
Cause I can't help but feel like I'm stuck

I can't stop my world from spinning on the axis of your love
I will find a way back to spinning on the axis of your love

Axis of your love...

I can't stop my world from spinning on the axis of your love
I will find a way back to spinning on the axis of your love
Oh... where are you?
Where are you?
Can you, tell me when the tides will bring us back together?
I need you to believe me, that, I will do, whatever it takes
And when the sun goes down, it will be me and you...

Axis of your love...

Spinning on your love on your, spinning on your love, on your love
Spinning on your love on your, spinning on your love, on your love
Spinning on your love...
Axis of your love...
