

Juvenile Mind

Cadmium

I'm wide awake in bed
I need a break my head is racing
I really hate it

Somebody take my stress
Cause every day this mess is making
Me so impatient

And I can't see
A difference in a nightmare or my life
So please just save me from myself
Cause there's a side of me
And no one sees it
I battle demons every day
I can't escape my mind

I keep on falling hoping I'll be fine again
My juvenile state of mind will keep me hating my friends
I keep on falling hoping I'll be fine again
My juvenile state of mind will keep me hating my friends

Yeah they tell me that they love me but they never even call
Never reach out at all I don't think they even really wanna waste their time
Trying to hit my line
And all they ever do is make excuses
We were never friends cause they treat me like I'm stupid
I don't wanna waste my time on people who waste all mine

And I can't see
A difference in a nightmare or my life
So please just save me from myself
Cause there's a side of me
And no one sees it
I battle demons every day
I can't escape my mind

I keep on falling hoping I'll be fine again
My juvenile state of mind will keep me hating my friends
I keep on falling hoping I'll be fine again
My juvenile state of mind will keep me hating my friends

My juvenile state of mind will keep me hating my friends

My juvenile state of mind will keep me hating my friends

I can't wait for better days to come again
I need something more cause I am wearing thin
Most days I walk around and play pretend
I need something more

Cause I can't see
A difference in a nightmare or my life
So please just save me from myself

I keep on falling hoping I'll be fine again
My juvenile state of mind will keep me hating my friends
I keep on falling hoping I'll be fine again

My juvenile state of mind will keep me hating my friends
