

Shadows

Cadmium

When the night is long and cold
Darkness seems forever
And the memories of before
Slowly fade away
But there's a path to hallowed ground
If only you'd remember
Feel the fire deep inside you
Let the pain be gone

When everything seems wrong
Like it came out of the blue
Hold it and be strong
I believe in you!

And after all the shadows have gone down
Can you feel the rising sun?
'Cause after all this time you can't surrender
When you have come this far
So after all the shadows have gone
Can you feel the rising sun?
You will finally find the light inside of you

So after all the shadows (Have gone)
After all the shadows

So after all the shadows have gone
Can you feel the rising sun?
After all the shadows have gone
Can you feel the rising sun?

There's a whisper on the wind
A promise made together
That is how it all begins
This is not the end

When everything seems wrong
And you wonder what to do
Hold it and be strong
Hear me calling you!

And after all the shadows have gone down
Can you feel the rising sun?
'Cause after all this time you can't surrender
When you have come this far
So after all the shadows have gone
Can you feel the rising sun?
You will finally find the light for you

After all the shadows (Have gone)
After all the shadows

So after all the shadows have gone
Can you feel the rising sun?
After all the shadows have gone
Can you feel the rising sun?

Rising sun

In the shadows
Through the shadows
Through the shadows
