

Should Be Me

Cadmium

I gave you my heart
I gave you everything that I had
I opened my arms
When you were feeling lonely and sad

When you needed a friend, I gave a shoulder just for you girl
So tell me why you're out there with a smile holding his hand

I gave you a voice, when you had no words to speak
All the late night calls, because you said that you can't sleep
So tell me girl, 'cause you know that it should be me
You know
You know that it should be me

You know that it should be me
You know that it should be me

You know that it should be
You know that it should be me

Countless nights
Wondering what I'm gonna do
Do I stand up and fight
Or do I just let you be you

We don't even speak
It's got me feeling like a ghost
And I want you to be happy
And that's what's hurting me the most

I gave you a voice, when you had no words to speak
All the late night calls, because you said that you can't sleep
So tell me girl, 'cause you know that it should be me
You know
You know that it should be me

(I gave you a voice, when you had no words to speak)
You know that it should be me
(All the late night calls...)
You know that it should be me

You know that it should be me
You know that it should be me

You know that it should be me
