Hands Of The Potter

Caedmon's Call

Lord if I'm the clay then I've been left out in the sun Cracked and dry, like mud from the sky Still clinging to the prodigal sun

But I'm on my way back home Yes I'm on my way back home

Into the hands That made the wine from the water Into the hands The hands of the Potter

Lord if I'm the clay that let your living water flow Soften up my edges Lord So everyone will know

That I'm on my way back home Yes I'm on my way back home

And Lord when you listen for the song of my life Let it be, let it be, a song so sweet Let it be, let it be, a song so sweet Let it be, let it be, a song so sweet, let it be

Lord if I'm the clay then lay me down On your spinning wheel Shape me into something you can fill With something real

And I'll be on my way back home Yes I'm on my way back home
