What have I told you?
Nobody ever shuts up
Rather than listen
They hear themselves talk
Godawful habit
Try to behave yourselves
Nothing the matter
Just trying to get across

Why don't I go home?
I'll put a record on
Like a Ray Charles song

What have I told you?

Nobody ever shuts up

Could be a bad time

Now that my high-tech hope is lost

Live for a starry sky

Under a Holly Hunter moon

What is the matter?

You're feeling homesick too?

Why don't I go home?
I'd like to be alone
Got me worried now
If I could block it out somehow
It's too loud, too loud

I'd like to be alone Got me worried now
