

Fifteen Minutes Too Late

Caesars

In a way I guess you could say
That I behave in a very strange way
But just because my mama said so
Doesn't mean I have to stay home

But just before I go
Let me tell you baby what I know
It doesn't matter what you say
You're fifteen minutes too late

Left behind you're on the outside
Out of luck you've had a hard time
Trying hard, you try to get there
You're getting high, you're getting nowhere

But just before you leave
Let me tell you baby what I mean
It doesn't matter what you say
When you're fifteen minutes too late

From the sky the snow keeps falling
From a car somebody's calling
I'm down here beneath the street
Where people drag their weary feet, yeah

Just before you go
Let me tell you baby what I know
And whatever you were gonna say
You're fifteen minutes too late

It doesn't matter what you say
'Cause you're fifteen minutes too late
