New Breed

Caesars

Wake up
Lift that tired face up from the street
Look around and tell me what you see
Another new breed is moving in

Tomorrow weight so heavy on your shoulders
You see that same reflection every day
Another new breed is moving in

I feel a storm is coming on
A hollow wind is blowing strong
When it comes knocking on your door
You won't be laughing anymore

Wake up
And tell me how you've always been missguided
You had everything and threw it all away
Another new breed is moving in

You finally know what it feels to be a failure
Pick up these dice and roll them once again
'Cause it's a new day that begins

You feel the storm that's coming on
A hollow wind is growing strong
When it comes knocking on your door
You won't be laughing anymore

'Cause the new breed is moving in
Yeah the knew breed is moving in
'Cause the new breed is moving in
Yeah the knew breed is moving in
'Cause the new breed is moving in
