

Towards Loneliness

Cain's Dynasty

There's no love to dry my tears
There's no Lord to keep me here
I don't wanna be a servant, I am done
I cannot bleed to please my love anymore...

Through a dark path of sadness
I leave this farce behind
I will fake no courtesy
With those who were liars

The place I used to call my home
Has turned to be my cage
I will break the bars and
I'll finally break free

Now I hear love words
Where before there was despise
No one will find me
No one will know where I hid my soul
Or where I go

I've become a wandering soul towards loneliness
There's no love to dry my tears
There's no Lord to keep me here
I don't wanna be a servant, I am done
I cannot bleed to please my love anymore...

You used to squeeze my flesh
It felt like paradise
Now I crawl with bleeding knees
But I can say I'm proud

I have recovered all my skin
My mind, my sanity
I'm walking on my feet again
You won't bite me no more

My son, you must remember who you are now
You are by yourself, but I'll be never gone

Abandoned by my Lord, I'll be oblivion
I'll be the nothingness, forsaken by God!

I've become a wandering soul towards loneliness
There's no love to dry my tears
There's no Lord to keep me here
I don't wanna be a servant, I am done
I cannot bleed to please my love anymore...

You can't runaway from your destiny
I'm running away from myself
