

A Night to Forget

Cain's Offering

When lights go down lets have another round
Come here my love, help me to search for my crown
A king of fools, I'm breaking all the rules
A drunken parody, I can't see the irony

This is my dynasty of pride and vanity
My broken self-esteem just can't face reality
Always the silent one, I was born to be undone
So I'll stay here in the darkness and I will

Leave everything
Leave everything behind me
My every sigh and every little lie
All that I have are memories so frozen
No one is flawless but baby I'm the worst

Pour me another one
Tell me I'll meet someone
A spoonful of sugar makes the poison go down

Feed my insanity
Write me a tragedy
Let's make a memory
A night to forget

Rain keeps pouring
I'll keep crawling

At three A.M I can't remember who I am
A sad and epic fail, I'm three on the Glasgow scale
Once again I vow "I'll make this right somehow"
It's just another lie, you'd cry If you could see me now

I'm such a travesty, living out my fallacy
Leave it to me to be the killer and the casualty
Late nights and neon lights
A thousand wrongs and zero rights

These are the steps that I must follow and I will

Leave everything
Leave everything behind me
My every sigh and every little lie
All that I have are memories so frozen
No one is flawless but baby I'm the worst

Pour me another one
Tell me I'll meet someone
A spoonful of sugar makes the poison go down

Feed my insanity
Write me a tragedy
Let's make a memory
A night to forget

Rain keeps pouring
I'll keep crawling

A shot of whiskey and some wine
A life in beautiful decline
I try to run, I try to hide
Intoxicated all the time

I'll build a bridge to watch it burn
Pour the ashes in the urn
And turn away just to start again

Pour me another one
Tell me I'll meet someone

Feed my insanity
Write me a tragedy
Let's make a memory

Pour me another one
Tell me I'll meet someone

Feed my insanity
Write me a tragedy
Let's make a memory

Rain keeps pouring
