

There Is an Evil Inside

Calabrese

Well, I got nowhere to go,
Heel spurs on a bathroom floor.
Bloodstains mark a map of gold,
Killer wolf in human form.

Well, evil prevails
On the night you left your home,
And I'll take you away
Alone.

Heartache on my trail,
Gonna find my misery,
Bad luck on my mind,
Always trouble -- what I find.

Well, evil prevails
On the night you left your home,
And I'll take you away
Alone.

Cold and holding a dark hate in your heart,
Spirit of evil, controlled by no one,
And I'll smash in your teeth in.
Your mouth will explode
With the blood and the want
And the hunger I love.
