

1 day you will

Caleb Hearn

I know some things that you won't understand till you're older
I know some things that'll take more than time getting over

She'll break your heart
Then you'll jump in your car
Drive for hours and cry on the shoulder
Take it from me
When you watch someone leave
It can feel like you'll never get closure

But one day, you will
Until then, you'll feel
Like your world's hanging by a string
I swear your heart
Knows how to heal
Even when you've tried everything
You can't see it clearly
Right now
But one day, you will
One day you will
One day you will
One day you will

You'll figure it out just to fall right back down even further
You'll stay there alone, hold it all on your own like it's armor

And you'll blame yourself
'Stead of asking for help
You'll believe that you'll never get better

But one day, you will
Until then, you'll feel
Like your world's hanging by a string
I swear your heart
Knows how to heal
Even when you've tried everything
You can't see it clearly
Right now
But one day, you will
One day you will
One day you will
One day you will

You can't see it clearly
Right now
But one day, you will
