

Klonopin

Caleb Hearn

I pull to the side of the highway
I can't feel my hands on the wheel
I don't know if I'm dying
But I think that this must be how it feels

It's deep in my heart like a poison
It's breaking me down to the bone
I don't know if I'm makin' it worse
But I, I just can't be alone

And you
Numb the pain
'Cause I
Just wanna feel okay

I need you like
I need you like water
A man in the desert I
Need you like
A child needs a father
You hold me together like
A stitch in my skin

It's almost a fix 'til I bleed again
It must be a sin
You're pulling me into your arms again

I've never felt so much of nothing
I guess that's the price that you pay
God I miss feeling more than a heartbeat, but
You take all that away

And you
Numb the pain
'Cause I
Just wanna feel okay

I need you like
I need you like water
A man in the desert I
Need you like
A child needs a father
You hold me together like
A stitch in my skin

It's almost a fix 'til I bleed again
It must be a sin
You're pulling me into your arms again

When will it end
When will it end
It never ends
Klonopin

When will it end
When will it end
Save me again

Make it end

When will it end
When will it end
It never ends
Klonopin

When will it end
When will it end
Save me again
Make it end

Need you like
Need you like water
