

So Well

Caleb + Kelsey

I thought I was distant
I thought I was finished
Drifted too far
Too far from Your heart
But you never left me
You didn't forget me
Each step of the way
You were there in my heart

Your arms are always open
You welcome me home

Father of mercies
How do You love me
So well, so well
So well, so well
Never withholding
Ever pursuing
So well, so well
So well, so well
You love so well

Your grace so relentless
Brought me to my senses
Awakened my soul
And filled me with hope
You are the shelter
I rest in forever
And should I lose my way
I know where You are

Your arms are always open
You welcome me home

Father of mercies
How do You love me
So well, so well
So well, so well
Never withholding
Ever pursuing
So well, so well
So well, so well
You love so well

And You throw your arms around me
And You greet me with a kiss
You're throwing me a party
Even though it makes no sense
Your thoughts for me outnumber
The countless grains of sand
My home is where Your heart is
And Your heart is where I am

Your arms are always open
You welcome me home

Father of mercies

How do You love me
So well, so well
So well, so well
Never withholding
Ever pursuing
So well, so well
So well, so well
You love so well
