

Rancho Azul

Calexico

All points vanish out west
A silhouette stands alone
Kika afraid of her garden
The seeds, they tremble and fall

Wearing a dress of milagros
A veil as black as the night
Always in her mind these visions return
She chases the demons away

Lorenzo sweeping the sidewalk
Finds Kika hiding in town
A bird trapped in the wires
Can barely speak and break free

Wearing a dress of milagros
A veil as black as the night
Always in her mind these visions return
She's chasing the spirits away

Reaches into the shadows
Lorenzo guides her back home
Clears out a path in the garden
To the heart of El Rancho Azul

Red bird's song in the morning
Amongst the thorns on the vine
The love that never will leave here
His obsession grows over time

Wearing a dress of milagros
A veil as black as the night
Always in her mind these visions return
Now keeps him from running away
