Falling Downwards

Caliban

We're waiting here in silence, repent is ever more.
I'm holding back the feeling that I've been here once before.
My insides aren't broken, I'm in bed with certainty.
My final escape, this report that I must have been lift.
Falling downwards, how is this happening to me?
Falling downwards, I'm alone you own to say.
I'm blacking out to violence, still searching for a cure.
I'm leaving all the poison that has caused me to turn impure.
My time will be a dagger, was the flame beside by throat.
My final stand is ...
Falling downwards, how is this happening to me?
Falling downwards, I'm alone you own to say.
Falling downwards, feeling myself being dragged into the abyss.
Falling downwards, don't know how it all came down to this.
