

Capulet

Caligula's Horse

Sleeper, let me stay
Bury me here in your arms, breathing you
Leave my limbs to the lame
I'd open this wound to the world and I would if I could

You, you are

If your heaven could find a place, you'll learn your words too late
Ever human, the sleeper wakes your world, your words
Too late

Heal over soon
(Heaven help us, here we lay Heaven help us if we stay)
Heal over soon, heal over soon

Fearless, let them see
Let it be us in the void
I see you stand as one in the fire
Wearing this love, my honour and I would if I could

You, you are

And if your heaven could find a place
Your world, your words too late
Ever human, the sleeper wakes your world, your words
It's you

You, you are
