

Looking At You

Call Me Loop

Eyes a little gone
Looking for the wrong
And all the while you're looking at me
Thought it was okay
Didn't have to say
But now my words are lost as I speak

Eyes a little gone
Looking for the wrong
And all the while you're looking at me
Thought it was okay
Didn't have to say
But now my words are lost as I speak

You think I hold back
Yeah baby I know that
You think I don't want you
Couldn't speak a more untruth
I'm trying but I thought that you knew

When I'm looking at you
Oh I'm broken in to
A girl I didn't see before
Her heart has opened up its door
When you're looking at me
Oh I thought it'd be clear to see
That I've been really giving my all
The more I look the further I fall
That I've been really giving my all
The more I look the further I fall

Falling on my sword
Reaping no reward
But I don't know any other way
All I ask of you
Is say you feel it too
And in that promise I can feel safe

Falling on my sword
Reaping no reward
But I don't know any other way
All I ask of you
Is say you feel it too
And in that promise I can feel safe

You think I hold back
Yeah baby I know that
You think I don't want you
Couldn't speak a more untruth
I'm trying but I thought that you knew

When I'm looking at you
Oh I thought it'd be clear to see

That I've been really giving my all
The more I look the further I fall
That I've been really giving my all
The more I look the further I fall

And I know I'm not shouting
About my love
But I don't want you doubting
No please don't run
And I know I'm not shouting
Just know that you're the first from whom I've never run

And I know I'm not shouting
About my love
But I don't want you doubting
No please don't run
And I know I'm not shouting
